

C+K

C+K Primary Award

C+K are the first provider in the country to receive National Endorsement by the Quality in Careers Consortium, for our Primary Careers Award.

Showcase and develop your careers programme

- Evidence shows that primary school is the best time to start career related learning
- The Standard showcases and supports the development of outstanding careers education, information, advice and guidance (CEIAG). The nationally recognised award is one of the highest accolades an organisation can receive for excellence in this area of work.

Full support to develop your careers provision

- Our process is supportive and developmental: We help organisations to audit and develop their careers provision in order to have maximum impact; leading to positive career-related learning, behavioural and transition outcomes for young people.
- A dedicated careers consultant will be on hand to provide bespoke support throughout the process. All our consultants are qualified practitioners with extensive experience and knowledge of the CEIAG sector, and a detailed knowledge and understanding of CEIAG at both a local and national level.
- Investing in and holding the award is evidence of a high standard of practice for parents and stakeholders, and provides excellent evidence for Ofsted.

How do you achieve the award?

You'll go through the following process, with first class support from our team:

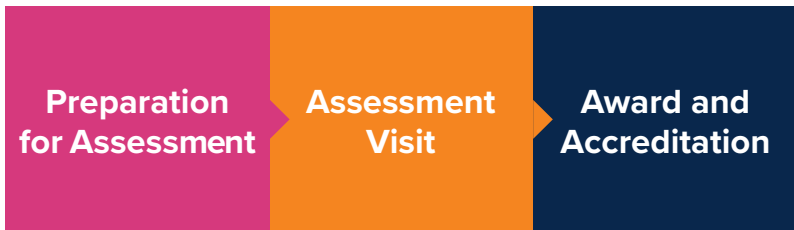

Quality in Careers >>>>

C+K Primary Award

Preparation (3-12 months):

Assessment and Accreditation:

We'll support you towards meeting the following criteria:

- Leadership and management (of careers, employability and enterprise education)
- Training and co-ordination of staff
- Quality assurance
- Planned programme

If successful you will hold the award for 3 years subject to an annual quality check.

Don't just take our word for it.

Primary headteachers and careers leaders said...

This fits in very well with our ethos of achievement.

I felt really well supported by C+K throughout the process and would definitely recommend the C+K award to other primary schools.

We have an even better awareness of the skills we want children to develop when planning our curriculum offer. When we started the process, we wanted to demonstrate a commitment to the development of the 'whole person', which we think we are closer to achieving now.

It has helped us to raise children's aspirations and academic performance by helping them understand the link between what they learn in school and the world of work.

Get in touch to find out more about the
C+K Primary Award

Kathryn Lea-Williams

Quality in Careers Standard Co-ordinator

kathryn.lea-williams@ckcareers.org.uk

T: 01484 213359

Further information can be found on www.ckcareers.co.uk

